

SR 169 Community Feedback Results

Dot Board Results

The Washington State Department of Transportation (WSDOT) hosted an open house with the City of Maple Valley on June 5, 2019, to hear from the public about their concerns and priorities for the SR 169 corridor in Maple Valley.

Dot Board Results

The dot board gave attendees the opportunity to identify their priorities from a list of eight safety improvement categories. Attendees distributed four dots across different priorities or placed them all under one priority.

Based on the dot board results and the comments WSDOT received, the top priorities for SR 169 are:

- Improving access from side streets.
- Relieving traffic congestion along the corridor.
- Reducing the speed limit.

In total there were 99 Post-It comments, some of which related to multiple areas of corridor improvements.*

Feedback Results Summary

Attendees provided their comments on post-it notes and indicated which corridor intersections and locations need safety improvements. The post-it notes were tabulated and categorized based on the feedback.

The post-it notes reinforced the dot board results by confirming that the top priorities are for vehicle access from side streets, vehicle speeds, and pedestrian connectivity. The feedback results also reveal which intersections are priorities: Southeast 253rd Place, 231st Avenue Southeast, and near Rock Creek Elementary School.

The feedback from this process will help with future planning and design of city projects to improve SR 169 in Maple Valley.

Next Steps

WSDOT and the City of Maple Valley will work together during future improvement projects for the SR 169 corridor, taking into consideration the three areas of greatest concern. WSDOT is also reviewing the current 45 mph speed limit on SR 169 between Southeast 253rd Place and Southeast 240th Street.
